Abstract: This presentation provides an overview of Regional Workshops conducted for South Carolina school librarians for the past three years. The Workshops, conducted in locations around the state, are free to participants. They are the result of a collaboration between the School of Library and Information Science (SLIS) at the University of South Carolina (USC), the South Carolina Department of Education (DOE), the South Carolina Association of School Librarians (SCASL), and Follett School Library Solutions. These workshops provided important information from the SC DOE about new statewide initiatives, as well as sessions on current library topics.
